Ladies' of Local I.O.D.E. Provide Enjoyable Evening's Entertainment

A most enjoyable evening's entertainment was provided by the ladies of the local chapter of the I.O.D.E. on Tuesday evening in the Grand Theatre. The major portion of the evening was taken up in card playing by a "500" drive. A short interval for refreshments then took place: tasty eatables and some very good coffee being provided. Announcement of prize winners at cards and for guessing contests was then made by Mr. John Cusack, chairman of the evening. A short but very excellent musical programme was next given by a small number of local artists. The renderings were exceptionally good and thoroughly appreciated. The hall was then cleared for dancing and for an hour, fun and merriment had their escapement in that manner. Altogether the evening was one of the most enjoyable that has been spent in our town.

The ladies wish to thank all those who assisted in any way towards the success of the evening. A financial statement will be published in our next issue; proceeds are in aid of local hospital funds. The following were the prizes and names of winners:

Hand-painted dish, donated by Worth & Macdonald (lady's card prize); Mrs. McEachern.
Gentleman's Scarf, donated by S. E. Peters & Son (gentleman's card prize); G. Lucas.
Doll, donated by Mrs. Storey (lady's consolation card prize); Miss Inez Clark.
Shoe Polish, donated by Mrs. H. C. Shepherd (gentleman's consolation prize); Mr. Munroster.

Organise "Men's Own"

Those who attended the meeting of the "Men's Own" on Sunday last, in the primary school building, heard a very interesting address from Dr. Caldwell. The subject was on venereal diseases. Information that should be more generally known was given concerning communicating and ways in which these diseases are spread, their effects on the physique of both sexes, etc. A general discussion followed Dr. Caldwell's address which had been listened to very attentively. Organization of the Society afterwards took place. Officers elected were: Mr. Munroster, president; Mr. I. McLean, vice-president; Mr. G. G. Peters, sec.-treas.

The New Year

Happy New Year! With each recurring new year this seasonable greeting and wish is extended by millions of people to each other. In some cases, no doubt, it is done as a mere matter of form, but probably the vast majority of people do sincerely hope that the incoming year will bring a larger measure of happiness and a greater prosperity to their friends and neighbors, their country and the world.

The extending of this old-time wish, "Happy New Year," if it is a sincere wish, implies much more than the utterance of the words. It imposes an obligation. If we sincerely wish that the new year may be happy ours, it is our duty to put forth the best that is in us to assist in bringing about a realization of our desire. And if all our New Year greetings and hearty handshakes are accompanied with a resolve to interpret them in definite actions throughout the year that is, it is a self-producing crop rather than a debt-paying crop. Such a condition is not likely to be repeated in 1922.

There is every reason why 1922 should far surpass 1921 in happiness and prosperity. It is inconceivable, for instance, that these Western Canadian provinces should experience a repetition of the disasters which overtook the agricultural producers this year. Several years of poor crops in various sections of the country culminated this year in a crop, satisfactory on the whole so far as quantity of grain was concerned, but which, in the aggregate, did not yield to the producers the costs of production. Large in volume as the crop proved to be, it was a self-producing crop rather than a debt-paying crop. Such a condition is not likely to be repeated in 1922.

Industrial conditions were far from favorable during the year now closing, with the result that, not in Canada alone, but to an even greater extent in other countries, there was unemployment. The consensus of opinion now seems to be that the worst in this respect is past and that the new year will show a steady improvement.

While taxation must for some years continue to be heavy in order to pay the vast cost of living, it is steadily falling, so that the wage earner and the heads of families can look forward to a larger measure of relief on this score.

A survey of world conditions is also hopeful. The dark cloud which has been hanging over Europe in connection with Ireland, and which threatened to break in a terrible storm of civil war, seems about to be dissipated. After long centuries of turmoil, agitation and strife, the Irish question appears to be on the eve of an amicable settlement.

The much heralded Washington conference of the nations on the limitation of naval armaments has been a wonderful, almost a miraculous success. The nations have found a basis of agreement to end the costly and dangerous race for naval supremacy. The probability of future wars is thus greatly lessened, and along with the removal of that threat, which was paralyzing the financial, industrial, commercial and political world, confidence is returning and with it renewed business activity is certain. The reduction in the burden of taxation will likewise be considerable and will become more and more apparent as time passes.

All these circumstances give assurance that it is no idle wish to extend the greeting "Happy New Year." What the world has long lacked in confidence, let confidence be restored, and economic conditions will soon right themselves. It should, however, be borne in mind that each individual citizen can exert a powerful influence in the right direction. Never before than now was there a time when the dead past should be allowed to bury its dead. Rather, like St. Paul, the Canadian people should forget those things which are behind and press toward those things which are before.

Pessimistic feelings should be cured by confidence and hopefulness. Expressions of confidence and words of hopefulness and encouragement should flow from every mouth, and our actions should be in keeping with our words. Never before than now was there a time when the dead past should be allowed to bury its dead. Rather, like St. Paul, the Canadian people should forget those things which are behind and press toward those things which are before.

Liverpool's New Cathedral

When Completed Will Be Larger Than Westminster Abbey

Liverpool Cathedral, the first portion of which is nearing completion, will be larger than Westminster Abbey when it is completed. It stands on a commanding site, 155 feet above the sea level, and will occupy together with the Chapter House and Lady Chapel, an area of 100,000 square feet. B.C. Needs People

It is hardly necessary to emphasize the necessity of encouraging tourist travel. The tourist is the advance guard of new population. One who could come and see the province receives there are many who return to stay. Discontinue the invitation and travel will cease. What California has done British Columbia should be able to do. Population is our urgent need. But advertising is essential—Victoria Times.

To Reduce Rents

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH

An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

Every last one of us is interested in the average flat house. It is according to a recent news item, it took longer to build than the house of the Greater New York Taxpayers' Association, to give many of us a serious jolt when he says that we cannot have our rents reduced unless we become better housekeepers and keep our homes in better condition.

To quote Mr. Berger, "The owner of the average flat house finds that the returns on the rentals from such old buildings is usually insufficient, due to so much too low gross income, due to the deterioration of the building, less attitude of the tenants in the sanitary and physical upkeep of their apartments, and to the fact that the renter pays bills that help swell the monthly expense account of any particular house."

Children, as a rule, are not restricted in their pleasures, and exercise the full use of their toys against the equipment of an apartment, including house plaster and plumbing fixtures.

It was assumed at a stump speech which insisted that women would have to get TOUGHENED if they were to obtain certain rights. She told us we would have to learn to respect the rights of others. But in the end, she practised what she preached, for later she boasted to me how she had "put one over" on the landlord.

She told me how she let the ice man put over to his (the landlord's) but to put on a new ceiling for the tenant dwelling below.

A woman with the proper civility should be more than apologetic if, through some fault of hers, the sink clogs, necessitating the expense of a plumber, not to mention the inconvenience to many others. It is not always civil people who are the cause of such trouble.

Then, the home is supposed to exist so that the children may become good citizens. And one of the first duties of the good citizen is to respect the rights and property of the other. How, then, can a mother believe and do a thing that she is doing to her children when she allows them to deface and destroy the equipment of the rented home?

Some children are even EXCITED by their mothers to write upon the walls and in other ways deface and destroy the home, because "it is the landlord's—it doesn't belong to us." That has a bad moral effect upon children.

Let us really while mother teaches her children that the home in which they live represents the combined efforts of many men and women's labors, and that it is not theirs to do as they please with it.

Let us all think seriously about what Mr. Berger has said. For we all desire lower rents.

Separation, But No Alimony

A parental, quiet separation, no damage done, everybody happy again—this is the new trend of the law in divorce cases.

Mr. Justice, in the recent case of Paterson v. Paterson, has decided that a husband who refuses to support his wife, or who refuses to provide for her, is liable for damages.

Railroad Man Says Smothering Spells Have Disappeared

"I had just about given up hope of ever getting well, but Tanhau has fixed me up and I want to put the good word along to others," said Dr. Green, well-known clerk of the Grand Trunk Railway Co., residing at 188 River Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"Two years ago I had a cold, and after that it seemed that I just could not get to feeling right again. I was very weak, and indigestion had such a hold on me I was actually afraid to eat. I just had to force down enough to keep me alive, and after each little meal I had such awful pains and cramps it nearly drove me double. Gas would form on my stomach about me until my heart acted queerly and I could hardly get my breath."

How To Get Select Bacon Hogs From Present Breeding Stock

The following article by Mr. W. F. Stevens recently appeared in the Market Examiner, Calgary, and should be of interest to western breeders.

You ask for an opinion as to the probable measures of the present campaign for greater pork production and especially greater bacon production.

Before venturing to comply with your request, I will mention some of the things which are certain to prevent success by at least reduce the degree of success, that might otherwise be attained.

One is an unfavorable season such as that which followed the campaign for greater bacon production in the autumn of 1917 and the winter of 1918. A season such as that, even though it destroyed most of the crop in the south must of necessity be followed by large numbers of hogs coming to the market unimpaired and unfit for the export bacon trade.

Another important factor in the case will be the attitude which the farmers and packers assume towards each other; the extent to which each tries to understand the other's problems and sympathize with his difficulties, will determine to a great degree whether or not Western Canada is to figure largely in the export bacon trade ten years hence.

If, the first time a farmer arrives on the market with a carload of hogs and finds that a large percentage of them are rejected by the packers, instead of trying to find out the reasons therefor, he will fall short of that standard and when he comes back he will be feeding or growing as at fault, he immediately pronounces the whole business a fraud and a new device for destroying the production of hogs for the packing companies, instead of explaining wherein the grower has failed, assumes a lofty air towards them, when he asks information and then undertakes to put himself by calling all farmers a lot of bone-heads who are incapable of getting the new ideas—will not get very far with our present campaign.

However supposing that the conditions are right, there will remain the necessity of our own growers exercising judgment in selecting proper sires to mate with the females they now possess and displaying skill in growing and finishing the offspring.

The majority of wise growers will have to ask themselves three questions:

(a) What breed produces the best hog from the packer's standpoint?

(b) What breed is best suited to Western Canadian conditions and methods of growing?

(c) With what breed and type of sire must I mate the sows I now possess, in order to produce hogs with proper management, will be needed as select bacon when offered for sale?

There is no doubt that in the hands of men who understand hogs and under suitable conditions the Yorkshire comes nearest producing the best hog from the packer's viewpoint. The man who breeds this type of breeding, who knows the methods necessary to succeed in growing up this breed and who is able to select his animals against the ailments to which they are most subject—namely, asthmatic and cracked skin—should continue with them and he need not have any fears about where they will be placed.

A close second to the Yorkshire from the packer's viewpoint, are the Tamworths. They have a slightly thicker and tougher skin than the Yorkshires, and therefore less likely to become scabbed. This is a point in their favor from the standpoint of the grower—but they are perhaps the most restless and active of any of the breeds and this is a point against them.

Hampshires when properly grown develop an excellent carcass for the bacon trade, and the grower who has counted on Hampshire breeding can safely continue to keep his herd pure.

The same applies to the "bacon type" Berkshire. One point must be kept in mind when selecting animals of this breed for breeding purposes.

In order to produce prime Whitehead bacon it is necessary that the carcass shall be of uniform thickness throughout the entire length of the back. The Berkshire, as a breed, has a tendency toward producing a somewhat heavier covering of fat over their shoulders than along the rest of their spine. In order to produce hogs that do not have this defect, it is necessary to select breeding stock that is smooth over the shoulders.

A large number of western farmers have for some years past been growing the thick, fat backed variety of hogs, and they are naturally inclined to breed of sire should be selected in order to secure the present-day has been promised for animals of the bacon type?

The man who has grade Berkshire sows of great length, should be able to produce bacon hogs by mating his sows with a boar of the longer type of the same breed.

A boar of Hampshire breeding will likewise throw pigs of good bacon conformation if bred to grade sows of fair length and depth of side.

But the farmer whose brood sows are of a pronounced short, thick type, such as the Duro-Jerseys, Poland Chinas, or the shorter type of Herefords, should select a sire of a pronounced opposite type; if he wishes to grow hogs that will, with a reasonable degree of certainty, be graded as select bacon when offered for sale.

For this purpose he is limited in his choice to the Yorkshires and Tamworths. From the packer's standpoint the Yorkshire is to be preferred, because of this thick, white and tender skins. For these reasons a more attractive side of bacon can be produced from such a hog than is possible from a red, black or spotted one; besides, a white hog can be cleaned at a slightly less cost than a red or spotted hog, and the carcass is looked upon with favor by the packers. But from the standpoint of the grower, particularly the grower who runs his hogs in a pasture lot during the summer, the pig from Yorkshire sires are not looked upon quite so favorably as the Tamworth, and the skin that is so much admired by the packer, renders them more liable to sunburning, and the skin turns to various kinds of skin disease.

Under Sire Rule

Former Leader Black Sea Port Dead

For All Practical Purposes

Odesa as seen today affords a striking picture of the ravages of war. The correspondent from that city to the London Daily Mail, formerly one of the principal forces of the Black Sea, serving the vast grain growing areas of South and Southwestern Russia, it is said, for all practical purposes dead.

Its splendid harbor, well-equipped wharves and warehouses, its many factories and chemical works, are some of the largest commercial value and grandeur. Today there are counted upon the skyline fifty smoke chimneys, all silent and empty, few show signs of utility. The harbor which in 1914, was in fact for the great number of ships serving the port, is now silent and empty except for the occasional official motor boat carrying the omnipresent Soviet guard.

Throughout the city the innumerable Soviet officials bustling to and fro leave the impression that they are the only men in the world, but, as results can be judged only by what is achieved, little indeed is accomplished.

As an instance of this, a large container coal has lain alongside one vessel for twenty-four hours waiting for a tugboat to tow it, and has not received permission to begin work, fifty twenty men are standing idle in the city, and the work is more like that than, some incompetent official has forgotten to issue.

Numerous incidents of a similar character could be quoted, all of a striking monotony to the fact of this regime, held out to the world for the redemption of humanity. Industry appears no longer to be the necessity of life, and tyrannical and mild, rules over all.

The asphalt quays are grass-grown from lack of use and pigs, goats and fowls wander unheeded over the empty squares, while the water-side is thronged with people whose sole occupation and interest are in fishing, reminiscent of some fishing competition at an English pleasure resort. The powerful cranes, standing gaunt and silent overhead, bear eloquent testimony of the straits into which this city has fallen. If the ports are the nerve-centres of a country, what more can this mean than that the body is paralyzed almost beyond hope of recovery.

Fewer Auto Fatalities

The record for automobile fatalities for Toronto for the seven months of 1921, as compiled by the Safety League, shows a total of 45 such deaths on the streets of Toronto. This figure is a noticeable improvement over 1920, when there were 64, which means a reduction of 30 per cent. in fatalities, in spite of an increase of thousands of motor cars registered in Toronto in 1921. In the months of January to November, inclusive, 1921, there were 47 automobile deaths on the streets of Toronto.

There are more blind persons, it is estimated, among the Spaniards than any other European race.

King of Denmark

Regrets Kind Action

Found Man He Helped Was An Escaped Convict

An amusing story of the King of Denmark's recent visit to Greenland was recently told by M. Aagaard, of the Danish legation, to members of the Danish Club in London.

As the royal yacht was approaching Greenland a dark speck became visible on the open sea. It proved to be a solitary Eskimo in his little kayak (native canoe). The Eskimo came on board and his loyalty in having braved the perils of the sea in such a frail craft assured, needless to say, the warmest of welcomes. The King presented him with a cigar, and the Eskimo most highly prize a rifle.

On landing the King described the incident to the Danish Commissioner in Greenland and asked him who the man was.

The commissioner in accents of horror, replied: "The man's an escaped convict. He broke prison years ago, stole a canoe and put to sea. We thought he had been drowned."

Investigate Market Condition

Attempt to Find Reason of Losses in Farm Produce

Investigation of marketing conditions for farm products, with the object of discovering the spread in prices of farm products and where losses occur was the question taken up by the conference of the Agricultural and Deputy Ministers of Agriculture for the three prairie provinces, held at Regina. The agricultural and livestock situation in the three western provinces was thoroughly discussed at the meeting.

It was recognized by the conference that the farmer of the west is not receiving a living wage, and the object of the western governments is to bring about better conditions on the farms through obtaining better prices for the farmers.

Further conferences of the western government officials will be held during the winter, following the sessions of the legislative assemblies of the three western provinces. The conference held at Regina was the first of its kind and it is expected much will be gained by holding such meetings.

Gold Medal For N.B. Apples

At the Imperial fruit show, held recently in London, England, New Brunswick, in competition with the other provinces of Canada and the other dominions of the Empire, was successful in carrying off the first prize and gold medals for McIntosh and Pausenau, and also a third and bronze medal for Golden Russet and Prince.

What Is a Good Farmer?

"The requirement of a good farmer are at least four," says Liberty Hyde Bailey: "The ability to make a full and complete record of the farm; the ability to be good service to the community; to leave the farm more productive than it was when he took it."

New Brunswick Leads in Potato Crop

New Brunswick leads the potato production areas in Canada. Almost 217 bushels to the acre were grown last year, which was highest in years; 254,728 acres were planted in 1921. 1,160,000 bushels of buckwheat and 50,000 bushels of wheat grown.

Confess as you can behind them without turning their heads.

Canadian Win Honors

High Honors Are Awarded At Recent

Several Canadians gained high honors at the recent Chicago Fair.

John W. Lucas, Calgary, Alberta, is holder of the grand championship ear sweepstakes. His new variety called "Victory" prevailed over a field of several hundred entries.

The oats weighed 64.4 pounds a bushel. This oat was originated in Sweden and brought to Canada through the Experiment Station, Ottawa. The Duke of St. Albert won an award with a sample of alfalfa from his ranch at Brooks, Alberta, at the grain and hay show and also captured a prize for his sample of hard red spring wheat, as also did the Duchess of Sutherland.

Robert McEwen, of London, Ont., was the first in sheep judging under the Southdown classification. The two Canadian horses, Principled and Westland, had little trouble in beating the other horses for the honors.

Several firsts and many other prizes were conferred upon Canadian horses in the various classes. In addition, Canadian corn winners was L. L. Thomson, Ottawa, Ont., with an exhibit of first corn.

Germany To Build Zeppelin For U.S.

Will Take Place of One Awarded Which Was Destroyed

The council of ambassadors has granted permission to the United States for the construction of a Zeppelin for the use of the United States in 1922. This decision marks the end of diplomatic negotiations which have proceeded between the allied powers and the United States since last July.

The application for the construction of a Zeppelin grew out of the desire of Germany to give five of the big dirigibles, one of which had been allotted to the United States during the war.

It is said that construction of the new Zeppelin may be started in January.

Big Population Doubles

Manitoba has twice as many people now as last spring. The figures show 1,217 colonies now compared with 7,532 in the spring. The output of honey in Manitoba this year estimated 1,000,000 bushels.

No Exploit Of Faith

English capital has still faith in Canada and the development of her natural resources. The latest evidence is that £5,000,000 has been pledged to finance the development of oil shale fields in Victoria County, N.B., by the oil organization of Great Britain, and the Petroleum Development of the British Government—Owen Sound News-Times.

Growth Of Wireless

Canada Has Fastest Wireless Service In The World

Recent achievements in wireless telegraphy in this country show that Canada continues well to the fore in this important phase of international life and give rise to further optimism as to the possibilities of wireless during the past two months wireless messages have been going out of Glenora, Nova Scotia, across the Atlantic at the rate of eighty-two words a minute, a record of speed which was scarcely thought possible to attain twelve months ago. It is the fastest wireless for telegraphy circuit of its kind anywhere in the world. It represents 410 letters per minute against the cable's 300 letters per minute. The use of a lakey transmitter in the accuracy of reception and the recording on the tapes is absolutely clear.

Alleged War Tractor To Be Tried Soon

Was Known During War For Brutality to Women

The trial of Armand Jeanes, alleged to be one of Belgium's most dangerous traitors, is to begin in Mons very soon. Said to have been known as "No. 27" in the German secret service, Jeanes is accused of having been the one under the name of Kapt. Blangies and Le Petit Belge, and carried on his work in Belgium during the war for his brutality, especially to women.

England Never Forgets A Service Rendered

German Marine Officer Honored For Daring Rescue In 1914

An ex-vice consul general of Great Britain bestowed on a German merchant marine officer a silver loving cup and medal emblem, for a daring rescue in 1914. In February of that year the British steamship County of Devon captured on her way from Norfolk to Rotterdam. For three days her captain and twenty-four members of her crew pitched in battling against the German tanker Deutschland, which sought to sink the hapless Britisher whose crew, unable to launch lifeboats, at last jumped into the sea. In the desperate struggle the captain of the Deutschland's first officer, Ernest Harmsen, put out and rescued the entire British crew.

In the spring of the war that England never forgets a service rendered a subject.

Wheat Production in Canada

Second Largest Producer of Wheat and Oats in the World

The latest official figures place Canada as the second largest producer of wheat in the world instead of third as previously stated. The production of wheat in the Dominion for 1921 is given officially as 329,335,309 bushels. The premier position for wheat production is held by the United States with 704,655,000 bushels. Canada is also the second largest producer of oats with 310,695,000 bushels.

Speaking at the convention of the Western Canada Livestock Union, Regina, Alexander Davidson, B.C., declared that owners in the prairie provinces had good material for dairy herds in their ordinary grade breeds provided purebred sire lines were introduced.

Butter Market is Glutted

Following the lead of other commodities butter is occupying an abnormal situation on the market. The direct cause of this situation is that Great Britain has released nearly fifty million pounds of butter which has been in storage for some time. This has forced export countries like Australia,

New Zealand, Argentina, etc., to look for other markets, and they are offering their produce at 10c less than the present price of butter in this country.
This situation has necessarily had its effect on cream prices, but the situation should be only temporary. Those who are in the dairy business and others who are making preparations to enter the field, should not allow themselves to be stampeded on account of the present situation. The Saskatche-

When Creamery Co. have issued the following circular on the subject:

"Unfortunately it is necessary to make a further reduction in cream prices. . . During the current week 24,000 boxes, which is equivalent to over fifty carloads of Australian and New Zealand butter has reached Vancouver, and the buyers at the Coast show no inclination to buy the surplus fresh butter being offered from the Prairie Provinces. On the other hand the Eastern markets are fairly well loaded with butter, both storage and fresh, and they are also being offered New Zealand butter to cost thirty cents per pound delivered Montreal and Toronto.

It is important that the creameries in the Dominion should endeavor to ward off the shipping of any more of this foreign butter as Canadian farmers are now producing sufficient cream to manufacture all the Creamery butter that Canada can consume. The only way that we can stop any more of this foreign butter from coming in is to get our prices down to a point that will discourage dealers from handling the foreign butter. Within a week the local prices of fresh creamery butter have been reduced six cents per pound.

We are laying the facts frankly before our patrons so that they will realize the conditions with which we are faced. We warn our shippers not to attempt to change over to churn dairy butter. It is practically impossible at the present moment to find buyers for dairy butter, outside of the small amount that is being sold in the Province. The country merchant is afraid to handle dairy butter as he knows that he is likely to lose heavily if he does so.

The best course to follow is for all dairymen to continue to produce the highest possible grade of cream, and we will see that we pay you the highest possible price for it consistent with market conditions.

What Do I Care About 40 Below?

When I've got four tons of the hottest heating Coal that ever came out of the earth.

This Coal is some I got from the Empress Lumber Yards, and it's great—the best heating coal I ever saw. They told me when I bought it it would make me feel a bit warm around the edges, and it sure does.

They have lots of it left at no higher prices than you pay for the other kind.

YOU CAN GET 150 MORE FOR A BUSHEL OF WHEAT

That Is What You Can Do Provided You Take Advantage of Our Offer

We have made arrangements with the E. H. Heath Co. Limited who publish the CANADIAN POWER FARMER whereby we are able to offer that farm magazine together with our own weekly at the one price for both papers.

The CANADIAN POWER FARMER is Western Canada's biggest farm monthly. It is now in its twentieth year which means that it is thoroughly established throughout the West. It deals with the mechanical side of the farm. Every issue is full of helpful hints and experiences on the operation of all kinds of farm machinery from a threshing-machine to a tractor. Its editor has just completed a trip of several months over Western Canada in a motor car for the purpose of studying the mechanical needs of the farmers. He visited the farmers, lived with them and worked with them. The results of his trip will appear during the next twelve months.

This offer may be withdrawn at any time. Without doubt your intention is to renew for this weekly, then why not take advantage now. Your subscription to this weekly together with a year's subscription to THE CANADIAN POWER FARMER for the same price as a weekly alone. This is where you make $1.50 on a bushel of wheat.

Mail your cheque or drop into our office the first time you are in town.
